New Rules For Fair Exhibitions

Adopted By Local Agricultural Society

22. Articles not accompanied by the owners may be addressed to the Secretary, who will receive them on being delivered at the grounds but in no case will he be responsible, nor shall such articles be brought to the grounds except by and at the expense of the owners or their authorized agents.

23. Exhibitors must claim their property at the close of the fair.

24. Exhibitors will at all times give the necessary personal attention to whatever they have on exhibition, and at the close take entire charge of same.

25. Exhibitors on arriving with their articles, will apply to the Superintendent in charge, when they will be informed where the articles are to be placed.

26. Articles placed on exhibition must not be removed until the exhibition closes, or the hour stated for their removal in the prize list.

27. Except where otherwise provided, where certificates of registration are required, the pedigree of the animal must be registered in the Canadian National Record.

28. The protection of any of the animals may be ordered by the directors in charge for review or other purposes, at any time during the exhibition, and any exhibitor or attendant refusing or neglecting to bring such animal to the directors shall forfeit his entry and any premiums which may have been awarded him.

29. The age of all stock will be determined from January 1st, and the age of all other live stock from the date of birth.

30. All live stock which is required in the judging ring must be kept broken, and shall be led into the judging ring.

31. The directors shall have power to decide all protests and withhold prizes if they are of the opinion that the protest is frivolous. They shall also have power to interpret the rules and make new rules if any printed rules do not cover any dispute or point which may be brought up. They may take action without any protest being made.

32. An exhibitor lodging a protest must make it in writing. It must be delivered to the Secretary within two hours after the cause of the protest.

33. A protest must state clearly the cause of the protest, and be supported by a deposit of five dollars, which sum shall be forfeited to the Society if the said protest be not sustained.

34. Protests against the Judge on the grounds of incompetency or previous bias may only be made in writing to the Directors in charge or the Secretary at least one hour before the class is brought into the ring.

35. Should a premium be found to have been obtained or awarded in error on the part of the judges, clerk or director in charge or by false evidence or misrepresentation or a violation of any of the rules, the money will be withheld by the Board, or if paid in error same must be refunded.

36. In all cases where certificates of registration are required, the same must be produced (except for stock under one year old) to the judge if considered necessary, before the judging takes place.

37. If there be any question as to the regularity of an entry or the right of any animal or article to compete in any class, the judge shall report the same to the Director in charge for an adjudication.

38. If the stock or article exhibited be of inferior quality, judges will not make an award, except when in their discretion the animal or article is of special merit. It does not follow that because a prize is awarded to a particular animal or article that it must be awarded.

39. In addition to the list of animals and articles offered for exhibits enumerated in the list, the judges may also distinguish such as they may consider deserving of notice, but which have not received prizes, by tickets with the words "Highly Commended" or award a diploma. This will not entitle the holder to any money payment. It is recommended to societies that in addition to money prizes, places should be made in the prize list for "Highly Commended"—H.C.—which will settle any difficulty that might arise in the settlements of prizes.

40. Exhibitors must ascertain the order in which judging will take place and must have their exhibits ready. No complaint or appeal based on the statement that the order of judging was not followed will be considered by the Board.

41. Each judge is to be held responsible for the great care in seeing that the awards are marked and such exhibitor shall be notified.

42. All classes for horses or ponies shown under saddle or in harness will be judged and awarded on the basis of the following rules:

43. No prize colors or cards may be affixed to any entry until the awards have been made.

44. No person shall be allowed to enter the judging ring during the time of judging except the Directors in charge, judges or assistants, persons in charge of the animals and members of the press.

45. All prize cards or ribbons which have been awarded must be displayed during the exhibition, except during the judging of the animal. Any infraction of this rule may incur the forfeiture of any premium.

46. Any person who shall attempt to interfere with or influence the judge in the discharge of his duties, or who shall attempt to influence the exhibition grounds and any contestants or anyone in charge to any judge or while his award is in consequence of any award made by him, or any exhibitor refusing to accept any award made by a judge, shall forfeit his right to any premiums to which he might otherwise be entitled and may be excluded from exhibiting for one year thereafter.

47. Upon the discovery of fraud, deception or dishonest practices, the Board of Directors may have been induced to affect the decision of the award and may prohibit or withhold the prize from exhibiting in any class for one or more years, and may also withhold the names of such persons if deemed expedient.

46. Whenever the word "premium" is used in live stock classes, it is to be defined as referring to and meaning the direct descendant, as son or daughter.

47. The judges are instructed to lay much stress upon superior breeding quality. Animals overladen with flesh to the evident injury of their breeding qualities will be rewarded down accordingly.

Miscellaneous.

48. If any person, through ignorance of the regulations, shall bring exhibit without having entered them at the proper time, the same may be allowed on the grounds, but shall not be classified, nor shall an official classification be made of them.

49. No person, except an exhibitor from the booth occupied by his exhibit, will be permitted to distribute any printed or advertising matter in buildings or upon the grounds, or to sell same on any fence or building, without first receiving permission from the librarians.

50. Persons having claims against the exhibition must present them to the Secretary within 30 days after the close of the fair.

MAGRATH 24TH PROGRAM GREAT SUCCESS

At the big celebration in Magrath yesterday, Raymond was represented by about half of her population.

The celebration was one of the most successful ever pulled off in the West. Every pastime of such a nature is sure to be rather slow at times as it is next to impossible to prevent waits. Taking everything into consideration it was a very satisfactory day to all.

Raymond lost to Magrath in the baseball game. Our boys showed lack of practice and gave Clarence O'Brien, who pitched a good game, poor support. Magrath were fortunate in having a bunch of batters from a New York college to help them. The score was 12 to 3.

Our girls lost both volley and captain ball, but Raymond took nearly everything else however, foot races, high jump, broad jump and pole vault. Meeks' mare won in the half mile dash.

Irrigation Leaders to Attend Congress.

Irrigationists of note from all over the United States and Canada will attend and participate in the convention of the Western Canada Irrigation association at Lethbridge August 5, 6, and 7 next.

The session opens in the Majestic theatre on the morning of Tuesday August 5th and there will be in attendance at the opening of the premier of the western provinces, ministers of agriculture, forestry and irrigation experts, as well as a large number of leading men in advanced agriculture from the states over the border, notably Washington, Oregon and Idaho.

This will be the first time the irrigation association will be represented, and among the speakers representing this great organization will be President Richard W. Young, Sec. Arthur Hooker and W. A. Halstead of California, the celebrated irrigationist and manager of the California Development Co.

The Congress has its eye on Canada and its officers have made known they were agreeable to consider a formal invitation to the hold congress of 1914 or 1915 in western Canada. Calgary is known to have unquies eyes on such a large convention, and it would not be surprising if the formalities incident to making the tentative offer were carried out during the convention in Lethbridge.

At the Tulsa Dry Farming Congress last October, delegates expected from thirty nations of the world and the total attendance will probably run above 100,000 people, since Tulsa lies in the center of a thickly populated agricultural country and railroad rates are low. A special train will leave these parts about Oct. 15. This district should certainly exhibit their produce, as we have shown them in the past we are able to put up the best.

Will LeBaron, Barnwell was with us a while last week.

tion with increased profits. It encourages farming by making it possible for the man with small means to succeed.

It lessens the labor required to grow other crops, as alfalfa or grain, because the ground does not have to be plowed for seeding purgoses and what is more important of all it leads to diversified farming so necessary in the maintenance of soil fertility.

The best sugar industry has and does now, exercise an influence for good; the betterment of farm methods, and an increased yield of all farm products. The industry is destined to solve many problems of farm management and cultivation which confront the Canadian farmer of today.

After thoroughly looking over the field from a farmers standpoint studying the situation in its various phases we are forced to the conclusions that no single industry so appeals to the farmer, that so lends itself to diversified farming, and adds so much to the wealth of the wealth of the community as the growing of sugar beets.

Our Friends In Lethbridge

J. M. Brown and wife were in Lethbridge on Monday. They sought painless dentistry and popcorn, the latter to be used for the coming Sunday School picnic at Mammoth.

Last week A. E. Moore an old time resident of Raymond was in Lethbridge noting its improvements since his last visit and his presence recalled an instance of one of his dominant characteristics, admiration for the ladies. He and J. B. Keillor, who was then principal of the Raymond school, were discussing the arrival of some new teachers, and Mr. Keillor was speaking with pardonable pride of their superior scholastic attainments, friend Moore listened as long as his patience held, when he burst in with, "I don't care a paragon for their scholastic attainments, Keillor, but what kind of lookers are they?"

On Sunday home missionaries Earl Scott and Geo. Wall were appointed at Lethbridge, they were accompanied by their wives only one each of course.

BIRTHS
To the wife of Geo. Shields on the 18th, a girl.

To the wife of Cy Wism, on Wednesday last, a boy.

Meeks Mare Won.

There were some travelling men in town last Tuesday with a race mare and a wrestler. A race was arranged with the Meeks mare which was easily won by a local horse. Then as much as there was a crowd already assembled some sport was inevitable.

Wrestling matches were next in order, one being arranged between O. J. Coleman and Velve Hoagie. Coleman scored two falls in 7 minutes. Henry Anderson was then pushed through the ropes. Although considerably outweighed Henry was certainly game and stayed with the larger man for forty minutes pulling up a fine exhibition. Collections were taken up for both parties.

The prize lists are out and anyone can get a copy by applying at LEADER office.

Local News

Barium Hill, Purple Springs visited friends in town.

Nale Robinson has returned after an extended tour through Manitoba.

M. V. Crossall, and Mr. and Mrs. Z. N. Skouson motored to Lethbridge Tuesday.

Frank Fairbanks, who was called home through the illness of his little girl, is again back on the "old sod."

James Ellison, D. H. Kinsey and J. W. Evans visited Coaldale and vicinity in the beet and stock interests.

Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Whitehead and A. B. Cook and wife of Taor spent the week end in town.

P. Van Wagner has disposed of his homestead near Barons. His purposes making extensive improvements on his home town.

Miss Dorothy Young is once more back on the "Leader" staff. She expects to remain until September 1st.

Mrs. Oliver Long of Lethbridge is here visiting her sister Mrs. R. Tollestrup. She expects to return Monday.

Roy Feltis left Monday for Carmanagay. He has accepted a position with the Citizens Lumber Co. Mrs. Feltis and the baby will follow in about a month.

LOST—One bay gelding, 3 yrs. old and one bay mare 3 yrs. old both branded—on right thigh.

Ten dollars ($10) reward offered for return of each. Address Brimhall Bros. Raymond.

Nothing is known as to who besides President Smith will attend the dedication of the Cadston Temple. Wouldn't it be splendid if we could have our conference just one week from Sunday.

The dance Saturday night given by the 1st Ward M. I. A. was a success from every standpoint. The sweet tasty dances won by the girls was an evidence of their skill. The judges however awarded the prize to Ina Ericson. As far as the finances were concerned they cleared in the neighborhood of fifty dollars.

Mr. O. A. Holmer and Mr. O. Rombough of Lethbridge have opened a photograph gallery in the town. Temporarily they are located in a tent south of the Alta theatre. They purpose investigating the business here and if it warrants it they will get suitable quarters and locate permanently. They expect to have their good work do their advertising.

Whoever missed the party on O'Brien's lawn certainly had a streak on hard luck. It was pronounced a perfect treat by all those who attended. All afternoon the good things were doled out by the Relief Society Sisters of the First Ward, until at dark everything was sold—this process amounted to about $40 worth towards the new fence for the 1st Ward Church.

Various games were indulged in the bean guessing contest was won by Mrs. Nye Sr. who hit the number exactly.

A Plaint of the Times.

Paradoxical as it may seem,
the Moose Jaw Times has been using the hind end of its name to jaw the banks and the Government.

Another paper, the Lethbridge News, hesitatingly almost inaudibly ears the Times may be guilty of Lese Majeste, not in jawing the Government, but the banks.

There seems to be only one power above and immune to criticism and that is the currency.
We protest that our inalienable rights are being invaded if we are not to be permitted even to talk about money' being denied as we are the abuse of it in any other way.

Bankers and business refer to it in awe-struck tones, almost with bated breath, as tho' it were some sleeping power the least rude noise might awaken and start on its destructive way, and ere it could be arrested might sweep the world into oblivion.

We prate about reforms, if there is one vital reform more than another that should be wrought, it is the reform of the currency.
We refer with pride to our banking system and our great financiers speak in glowing terms of its elasticity. "Rubber." We seem to have stretched our system to the limit and reached a rigidity akin to death. If only some great emancipator would arise and free the world of this dragon that has enslaved and threatens to devour us all, his name would go down in history as the greatest man of all time, but freedom from money may be had in just one way, the grave. It is to laugh that a mere convenience, a shadow representing substance should hold the world in such abject terror and furnishes the greatest of all comedies of time.

Bob Ingersoll was once shown through the vaults of the sub-treasury of the United States where was locked away five hundred millions of gold, and the official in charge spoke of the weight of responsibility he felt in having so much wealth in his care, but the great agnostic like a true apostle of intellectuality said, "It would rather have written one page of Shakespeare, than to own it all."

Will we do it?

The Agricultural Society have been struggling for years to make ends meet at the Fall fairs.
They have been unable to make any improvements on either the buildings or grounds for the past four years. Why? One reason is the lack of support tendered the Society by our local farmers.
For the district the membership list is a very small one.

The government grant and every cent the Society can make is turned into the prize fund.
These prizes are offered to induce the farmers and others to exhibit for upon them rests the success or failure of the fair.

The Leader suggests that for just one year that all prize winners turn their money over to the Society. Money problems of the committee would then be solved.
With many bearing the burden no one in particular would suffer.
Such a move would show the surrounding towns how a generous broad-minded lot of townspeople can prove their loyalty to home institutions. Will we do it?

The Weed Problem.

Weed problems, confronting the country are very difficult to solve. Inspectors in every district report it next to impossible to get the farmers to recognize the importance of eradicating the evil.

Every farmer should feel this responsibility, for a few weedy farms can seed the entire country.

The Lethbridge News contained a splendid suggestion on this subject. To remove the tariff from sheep and permit them to graze in the fields through the Fall, Winter and early Spring. They crop the grass so close to the ground that no weeds would be left.

At any rate it will be impossible to clear the country without the personal attention of every one concerned.

A MODERN PORTIA

Remarkable Length of Anti-Vivisectionist Speech by Woman Attraction

Attention

The medical arrangements required by the insurance Act have drawn attention to the importance of the Scottish village, to the Edinburgh special interest association of lead to this unknown junction, and a special train, which is now in, conveys workmen to Hawick every morning. Free passes are supplied to railway employees and to meet the medical requirements of the community, the railway directors permit Hawick doctors to travel to Hawick on business in general, as well as for special particulars, as they may find most convenient. Among other privileges peculiar to the district, goods are carried to the grocery store at half the usual rates.

The remarkable three-day anti-vivisectionist speech of Miss Lind-

Hagerty, the modern Portia who has been conducting her own case in an action for alleged libel contained in two articles published in the Mail and Gazette, has aroused widespread interest. Miss Lind-Hagerty, who is trying the case, was warm in praise of the forensic skill of the very fine speech, she said, turning to her, when Miss Lind-Hagerty had by concluded, and it was remarkable that after she had spoken 71 of the 230 words of the case, her voice appeared as full and clear as at the beginning of her speech, as when she commenced her address.

Apart from her wonderful fluency and mental knowledge of the English language, (Miss Lind-Hagerty, it is Swed), she created a remarkable impression on the many hon-able the Court's great attention. With woman's instinctive genius for dress-

Regarding the tale concerning which

King George and Queen Mary content

the matter, it might be noted that that many complaints have been made in the past about the overworking of these children. The official list of guests has so considerably increased that it is necessary for the Lord Chamberlain to invite a much larger number of guests than he accommodated. During Queen Victoria's reign the number was limited to two thousand. Every year since has been in force or in its office as a matter of course, and there are a great number of other changes in the list on the present list.
